Spin structures and killing spinors on lens spaces ...

We determine the values of m and p for which a lens space $Z/p \times m-1$ admits a spin structure. We prove that the only lens spaces (with dimension > 3) admitting a maximal number of linearly independent Killing spinors are the real projective spaces $P^{4k-1}(R)$.

A nestable reader-writer lock minimizes writer and reader overhead by employing lock structures that are shared among groups of processors (24) that have lower latencies. In the illustrated multiprocessor system having a non-uniform memory access (NUMA) architecture, in a first embodiment each processor node has a lock structure (83) composed

Vector space - Wikipedia

A vector space (also called a linear space) is a collection of objects called vectors, which may be added together and multiplied ("scaled") by numbers, called scalars. Scalars are often taken to be real numbers, but there are also vector spaces with scalar multiplication by complex numbers, rational numbers, or generally any field. The operations of vector addition and scalar multiplication
