London School Of Economic's Richard Sennett (no relation to Mack Sennett of Keystone Kops fame) has written an important and eminently readable short book (a long essay, really) about the personal consequences of work in the "new capitalism."

The Corrosion of Character: The Personal Consequences of ...

Richard Sennett's 'The Corrosion of Character: The Personal Consequences of Work in the New Capitalism' is a book that makes you drop everything and stare at the ceiling for a few hours after. He travels from political economy to social theory to psycho. As a PhD student, you are always on the look for those books or papers that give you a proper perspective to think from.
